

*CURSO DE LECTO-COMPRESIÓN
DE TEXTOS MÉDICOS EN INGLÉS*

Prof. Carina Jovović

XIV) LEER LOS SIGUIENTES TEXTOS Y CONTESTAR LAS PREGUNTAS SOBRE EL PATRÓN DE ORGANIZACIÓN

1. Chimps are intelligent enough to make and use dinner utensils. Jane Goodall was the first scientist to study this behavior. One day, as she was observing, several chimps plucked long blades of grass and stripped off the leaves. Each licked one end to make it sticky, and poked the stem into a termite nest. Each chimp then pulled the stem out covered with termites and licked them off, much as a child would a lollipop.

Pattern of organization:

2. There were two kinds of fireworks at the show last night. The first was the skyrocketing type, exploding high up in the air and producing the most dramatic effects, as well as “oohs” and “ahs” in the audience. The second type, Roman Candles, shot up separate showers of sparks and colored flames.

Pattern of organization:

3. Winston, my friend’s old dog, doesn’t see well anymore. In the evening, when the light is dim, he bumps into chairs and walls as he searches for his bowl.

Pattern of organization:

4. Open communication leads to healthier relationships. Research has shown that couples who often disclose their feelings to each other report having stronger feelings of love and happiness than others.

Pattern of organization:

XV) LEER LAS SIGUIENTES IDEAS PRINCIPALES DE TEXTOS Y DETERMINAR EL PATRÓN DE ORGANIZACIÓN

1. Parents tend to treat the oldest child differently from his or her siblings.

Pattern of organization:

2. Artificial intelligence (AI) is a term that describes computer programs that solve problems by “thinking” the way people do.

Pattern of organization:

3. The high cost of college today creates several problems for many students in more ways than one.

Pattern of organization:

4. Identical twins, even when raised separately, have remarkably similar mannerisms.

Pattern of organization:

*CURSO DE LECTO-COMPRESIÓN
DE TEXTOS MÉDICOS EN INGLÉS*

Prof. Carina Jovović

5. The bartender keeps a gun under his cash register, and next to that, a can of Mace.
Pattern of organization:
6. Certain colors are associated with particular emotions, as in the following examples.
Pattern of organization:
7. There are a number of symptoms of drug abuse.
Pattern of organization:
8. King Ludwig's castle had several well-placed towers from which archers could fire on an attacking army.
Pattern of organization:
9. There are three reasons why Titanic sank.
Pattern of organization:
10. The following is a description of the North Shore Music Theater, from the entrance hall to backstage.
Pattern of organization:
11. Her behavior was unusual yesterday in a number of ways.
Pattern of organization:
12. Usury is the practice of lending money and charging too much for interest.
Pattern of organization: